Practices template

Item	Snowman
Good practise description	Students prepare PowerPoint presentations, make home videos showing physics experiments, and presentations using the Windows Movie Maker programme. For example, scholars from the 6th grade studied a snowman: they measured its mass, calculated its volume, explored how quickly it melts, analyzed the snow purity or pollution. Activities were recorded by photos, videos and presentations.
Level	National level
School subjects it deals with	Physics and mathematics
Country	Latvia
Name of the Institution (organisation)	Cesis Primary School Nr. 2
Type of institution involved and main functions	Primary School
Involved target group	Teachers
Main challenges key success enabling factors	Videos and virtual experiments are good tools for getting young people interested in almost any issue. Practical experiments motivate students. The experiment was close to the students' everyday life. Use of Active Inspire, PowerPoint, Windows Movie Maker. Connection to everyday life is motivating for low achievers.

Lessons Learnt and Recommendations – if any	The school has to have a SMART Board. Students should have tools for making videos (smartphone, tablet).
Tool/tools used for self-evaluation	Feedback from the students and visible results from the activity.
